PDRN Mechanism

Molecular Weight Confirmation Test

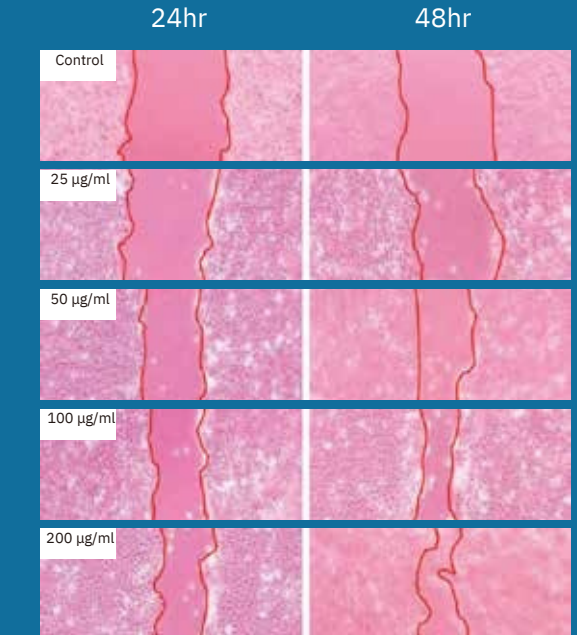

The data below shows the results of an electrophoresis test comparing our PN with a medical device from another company

- The first lane indicates the marker. (A)
- The second lane shows the molecular weight of Company P's medical device. (B)
- The third lane shows the molecular weight of our PN (polynucleotide, high-molecular), prepared by dissolving it at the same ratio. (C)
- The fourth lane shows the molecular weight of our hydrolyzed PORN (low-molecular) solution. (D)

Cell Regeneration Effect Confirmation

The data below present images showing the extent of cell recovery when our PDRN was applied to damaged skin cells.
